

AN OLD FASHIONED PICNIC marked observance of the Fourth of July at Marley. The grove in Haley's Park was a perfect setting for the affair. The people who came had lunch (cafeteria) and there were ball games, foot races, and various athletic contests for the youngsters. Marley Celebration

Greets 4th in Old Time Setting

On July 4, the little community of Marley, as usual, conducted a top celebration. The setting could not be improved. Haley park, with the many tall oak trees, which might date back before the signing of the Declaration of Independence, the grass in the large area freshly mowed, and the new shelter house, all combined to make the celebration delightful.

After a cafeteria dinner served from the shelter house, and eaten under the trees, all gathered at the speaker's stand for an excellent program. The speakers stand was a hay rack, decorated with red, white and blue bunting, and the Christian and American flags.

James Tilsy was master of ceremonies who briefly with vivid remarks recalled the signing of the Declaration of Independence and of the controversies leading up to the great event. Not all the colonies agreed to independence from England at first, but finally it was made unanimous, for which today all citizens of our country should be eternally grateful.

The young ladies chorus sang several selections and also gave a skit, "In Christ there is no East or West."

The speaker, John Postelwaite, chief of field service at the Joliet Arsenal, complimented the Marley people on their observance saying that this is "America at its finest." His topic was "Our Constant Cross Road."

He said that America was born at a cross road, Lexington and Concord, and that in the movement west, cross roads were constantly present and overcome. In 1865 our country was put to the test on our founding philosophy, and we came out of it scarred but stronger. He included other cross roads as being our agricultural struggles, World Wars I and II; and again the battle of the outbreak of the Korean struggle—all for the defense of the principles on which we stand.

"No man on the face of the earth should be oppressed—at each cross road we have met, down thru the years, there were some characteristics which we have had to differ. But with our firm trust, and such as exemplified in Washington, Lincoln, great leaders, teachers, preachers, from every race and creed we have much of which to be proud," he declared.

Mr. Postelwaite approached situations that exist today, stating it is "another cross road—Our free way of life or the communistic philosophy."

He said, "Man cannot conceive total war which will be the last with no winner. What do we do now? It is time for each to stop and take stock of our way of life. It is not to our leaders, it is our decision. We must recognize the true universality of Brotherhood of Man, not brother against brother."

Mr. Postelwaite closed his address by saying, "It is time that every man rededicate himself to the true principles of the American way of life which must lead to the world's greatest challenge. Are we equal to it?"

St. Mary's Fiesta

Annual Affair Set For July 15-19

St. Mary's parish of Mokena is to hold its annual fiesta next week, July 15-19.

The affair will be staged at the parish social center on Wolf road and 15th st.

Persons coming from a distance are advised to "follow the light in the sky." A huge searchlight will serve as a beacon to guide visitors to the scene of the festivities.

Prizes will be awarded each night. There will be various contests and other festivities to provide fun and entertainment for the visitors, according to those in charge.

The fiesta will open at 7 o'clock next Wednesday night, July 15.

One of the highlights of the affair will be a delicious home cooked chicken dinner to be served Sunday, July 19. Serving will begin at 12 noon.

Thru the years this dinner has become a great drawing card. The entire meal is prepared by the women of the parish and as usual will be topped off with homemade pies and cakes.

"To those who have attended our dinners in the past," a spokesman for the general committee said, "there is no need to tell them that this too will be an excellent repast."

"To our new friends we would like them to come to St. Mary's for one of the best meals they ever had."

"For persons who like carnival attractions and to meet and visit friends every night of the fiesta will be made to order for them."

SEWAGE ROW AT NEW LENOX

Frankfort Board Would Improve Drainage System

Work on clearing and improving a drainage ditch along Maple street at Frankfort is scheduled to get under way next week. The stretch to be improved is about two blocks long, extending from what has been Pacific street to Oregon. Total cost will be about $3,500.

Elaine Saxton, Mokena contractor, was low bidder on the job, his figure being under $3,000. Other costs, including fees for the Mulford engineering firm at Chicago Heights, is expected to run the cost up to approximately $3,500.

The Superior Match Co. has agreed to pay a third of the cost and the village will assume the balance.

The decision to move ahead with the improvement was made at the regular meeting of the Frankfort village board Monday night.

The members discussed again a move for the village to take over the old tile lines, when the new sewer system is completed, as a means of carrying off surface water. While no final action was taken board members indicated they favor such a plan.

There are also some ditches along certain streets that will be improved if this plan goes thru to prevent flooding.

The board was scheduled to consider a subdivision ordinance, a zoning ordinance and the proposed land use map for the village and the surrounding mile and a half area but because the attorney, Albert H. Krusemark, was on vacation the measures were not brought up.

Some minor changes had been agreed upon at a recent special meeting but the revised copies were not available and passage has been put over until the next regular meeting, July 20.

The ordinances will follow the recommendations of the planning engineers in all the important details, it was said.

Justice of the Peace Herbert Folkers turned in approximately $1,700 in fines collected on village charges in the past year. Most of the fines stemmed from arrests by state police on that portion of U. S. 30 that is within the village limits. Hereafter, Folkers said he would make monthly returns to the village.

Five hundred dollars was placed in the park fund, taken from the general corporate fund, to enable the village to meet some of the expenses there until funds are available under the new appropriation ordinance.

The village maintains the park and pays for the lights used on the baseball diamond. Sometimes it is reimbursed for the lights and there have been times when it has not.

The village has purchased a sickle bar attachment for its mower so weeds and grass along streets and park borders can be mowed.

And speaking of mowing the village board reminds property owners, particularly those whose holdings are vacant, to keep them mowed.

It was pointed out that the weeds and long grass are not only unsightly but can be a serious menace to health and safety. The village has an ordinance requiring the mowing of vacant lots and when owners do not comply the village has authority to have the lots mowed and the cost charged to the owners.

Religious Group Plans Conference At Lincoln Fields

Robert Miley, presiding minister of Tinley Park congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, 179 E. 154th st., Harvey, has recently returned from an administrative meeting in connection with a 3 day convention to be held at Lincoln Fields race track, Crete, Aug. 7-9. More than 2500 guests, associate ministers and their families from Chicago and suburban areas are expected to attend this convention, it was said.

Hassle Over Blocked Tile in Court Today

Surface water and sewage have combined to cause residents in the vicinity of Second and Pine at New Lenox considerable difficulties in the past and with the arrest of one of the homeowners on complaint of a neighbor the situation is coming to a head.

Assistant State's Attorney Michael Orenic who is handling the case indicated that other arrests will follow if complaints are made.

The village board of New Lenox is preparing plans to dispose of surface water that has caused flooding at Second and Pine. It is the hope of officials that elimination of the surface water problem will enable septic tank systems in the area to function and thus dispose of the sewage problem.

The village board is addressing a letter to the Will county health department assuring that body of its desire to cooperate in abating pollution in the community.

The village is now waiting on its engineers, Woodman and Baxter, to complete details of the tile line to carry off the surface water along Pine street.

Under arrest as a result of the hassle over sewerage is Raymond Flint, who resides at the northwest corner of Second and Pine. The complaint was made by M. Jack Simmons, who lives on Pine street, two doors north of Flint.

The warrant, issued by Justice of the Peace George Williams of Joliet, charges Flint with discharging raw sewage and waste water into an open ditch and on open ground. He is at liberty under a $200 bond and a hearing of his case before Williams is scheduled for today.

According to the information available the sewerage Simmons complains of does not stand on his property but on Flint's. It does not go onto Simmons' property, it was stated, because Simmons is alleged to have blocked the tile. Had he not blocked the tile, it is claimed, then the sewerage would run into his yard.

Last year the village board had a plan to run a surface water drain on the back end of lots along Pine street but failed to get easements.

The tile line now proposed would run along the street. It is the belief of some who have studied the situation that the ground has become so saturated with surface water that septic tanks were flooded and raw sewerage carried into ditches and yards. When the ground is dried out they expect the septic tanks to work.

Up until last year there was no ordinance in New Lenox regulating the building of septic tanks and fields.

The village has been wanting to install a sewer system for several years but the cost has been described as prohibitive.

Death Takes G. Bettenhausen

Last rites were conducted for George C. Bettenhausen, 76, yesterday afternoon, July 8 in St. Peter's United Church of Christ, Frankfort, with the Rev. Erich Bizer officiating. Mr. Bettenhausen died in his home on Ash street, Frankfort Sunday. Burial was in Pleasant Hill cemetery.

Mr. Bettenhausen, who was a harness maker in Frankfort the past 49 years was born Oct. 2, 1882 in Green Garden township and was united in marriage with Anna Englemann in January 1910. They established their home in Frankfort.

Surviving are one son, Raymond of Joliet and two grandchildren. His wife and son Lloyd preceded him in death.

Land Use Map for Mokena Area Gets Approval of Village Board

The Mokena village board at its regular meeting Tuesday night adopted the land use map as outlined by the firm of planning engineers hired by Mokena and Frankfort to aid them in guiding development of the area.

The map, as applied to Mokena, would give the plan commission jurisdiction over an area extending for a mile and a half outside the village.

The Mokena board also adopted a resolution recommending that Carl Muehlenbruch, head of Educational and Technical Consultants, be empowered to draw the line where Mokena and Frankfort jurisdiction would overlap under the mile and a half rule that would be mutually acceptable.

Action by the board in adopting this land use map was described as a step forward by the village.

It was recommended by the professional planners, and accepted by the village, that the land east of Mokena along the Rock Island tracks be designated for industrial use. This is where some subdivisions would build 8,000 homes. The plan commission is opposed to use of this land for homes, contending that it would place a burden on the village and school districts that could never be relieved.

Berle Needham, a member of the plan commission, who was present at the board meeting Tuesday night, said that he had learned through Rock Island officials that industrial representatives were coming to view the area designated to serve industry.

Industry, Mr. Needham pointed out, wanted assurance that when they came into an area they would not become involved in a hassle with residents. Mokena is in great need of some industrial development, he added, to afford some relief to taxing bodies as well as taxpayers.

The Mokena board expects to adopt a subdivision ordinance at its next meeting. This ordinance was drawn up by the planning engineers and is the same as is now under consideration by the Frankfort board. It calls for sanitary and storm sewers, water mains, curbs, gutters, sidewalks, paved streets, landscaping and trees, and the posting of a completion bond and other matters.

The board may accept the sewage treatment plant at its next meeting, it was indicated. It has also filed a request with the Northern Illinois Gas Co. for service to heat the treatment plant.

And while on the subject of sewers it was decided that inspection of connections would be held to certain hours—8 to 4:30 Mondays thru Fridays and 8 a.m. to noon on Saturdays and without charge. Inspections outside of these hours will require payment of a $5 fee.

Persons whose property was recently annexed to the village will not be required to pay a full year's fee for a vehicle sticker. They will pay $1.50.

Durward Fant was reappointed village treasurer, this time for a two year term. Mrs. Alvin Sorensen was re-hired as a clerk.

The board plans to have additional street lights installed where needed, including on Anna street.

Permission was given to St. John's church to build a gravel path from the parking lot at the north of the church to the entrance on the east side. The path will lie on park property belonging to the village.

Son of Orland Family Heads Jr. Achievement

The first national conference of Junior Achievement "alumni" was held last week-end at Northern Illinois university at DeKalb.

Junior Achievement is a national program of economic education. High school students get first hand knowledge of business by forming their own companies, floating stock, and manufacturing or merchandising products. They keep records of costs, profits etc., as a part time project during the school year.

The conference last weekend was attended by Junior Achievement graduates from 35 cities from coast to coast. It marked the first major attempt to develop a national alumni association among former participants in the Junior Achievement program.

Age of the delegates present ranged from 21 to 32. Their occupations cover a wide field. Present were salesmen, engineers, production designers, accountants, a politician and housewives.

E. H. Mosler, Jr., president of the Mosler Safe Co., New York, and national president of Junior Achievement, was one of the main speakers.

Directing the conference was Ronald R. Roman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Guetter, 8501 W. 135th st., Orland Park. He joined the staff of Junior

Municipalities Get Share of May Sales Tax

A total of $4,568,682 was collected by municipalities thru their city sales tax on May retail sales, a report to the office of Governor William G. Stratton from the Illinois Department of Revenue reveals.

Gross collections were reduced by the state's administrative expense of six percent ($274,120.). The balance of $4,294,561 will be distributed to the 1048 cities and villages in which this tax was collected.

The May report shows an increase of seven cities and villages over the number in April. As of the end of June, 1067 municipalities had passed ordinances under the Municipal Retailers' Occupation Tax Act, a self-imposed one-half cent tax on retail sales. Following is the net amount each area municipality received:

County Zoning Map Hearings Are On Today

Orland and Palos township people will have opportunity today to express themselves on the proposed comprehensive amendment to the Cook county zoning ordinance. A public hearing was scheduled to open this morning at 10:30 in Room 535, county building covering matters in Calumet, Worth, Palos, Lemont and Orland townships.

Yesterday hearings were conducted involving Bremen township.

Andrew Dallstream is presiding at the hearings. He emphasized that the hearings will deal only with the maps as they affect the various townships.

The planners foresee a population of 61,000 for the 12,536 acres of unincorporated land in Bremen township and the Orland maps indicate that 96,000 persons may be residing in the 21,520 unincorporated acres some day. In Palos township there are 16,550 acres of unincorporated land and the population estimated for such areas is placed at 35,000.

Zions, Methodists Maintain Hot Pace

Holy Name Moving Up On Leaders In Tinley Park Church Loop Race

Bert Jevett sent a long drive to right field which trickled off the fingers of Jim Bagby and three runs scooted home in the last half of the seventh inning as Zion Lutheran tied the St. George Knights, 12-12 and sent the game into extra innings in the Tinley Park church softball league. Zion won 13-12 in the 10th.

The Methodists put on a terrific burst in the final three innings to beat an erratic Nazarene team, which had led thru the first four frames, 17-13.

St. George Holy Name continued to win and thus is moving up on the front runners. They beat the Reformed church with the aid of an 11 run third inning, 19-10.

Zion and the Knights battled thru 10 innings of play before the issue was settled. Last week the other St. George team pulled an upset by beating Zion in the last half of the seventh. The winless Knights almost shocked the league with a near up set over Zion.

With one out in the last half of the tenth, Bert Jevett again proved the thorn for the Catholics. He singled, Bill Swisher advanced him to second and Walter Goebel drove home Jevett with the winning run with a single to deep right.

Richblum aided the Knights surprising attack with four hits, one of them a two-run homer. Dean Propp slashed out a home run for Zion in the big fourth inning.

Sparked by a pair of two-run homers in the second and fourth innings by Art Graefen the Nazarenes forged ahead to a 7-3 margin thru the first four innings.

Then the Methodists exploded for seven runs in the fifth. They scored with three hits and a mixture of Nazarene errors.

Don Gee hit a homer and a triple in the Methodist 14-run last three innings.

The Nazarenes lost two runs when Bob Culp failed to touch first base on a home run with a man aboard.

Ken Webster hit a home run in the 7th inning with no one aboard.

Holy Name continued as the third team in the league with just one defeat as they knocked off the Reformed church, with one big inning.

The game was featured by seven home runs; four by St. George HN and three by Reformed.

Bender, Butler, Gunther and Zimmerman hit the ball for four sacks. Kostecki had two and Vanderveen one for Reformed.

Reformed took the lead for the first two innings, 3-2, but wasn't in the game after the third inning.

Bender collected four hits in four times at bat.

Holy Name demonstrated exceptional daring on the base paths.

Browsing Through The Cold Stove League

By DEAN DALLAS, Sports Editor

Bob Rodger, the All SW Suburban basketball center and baseball right fielder is definitely going to University of Illinois.

Bob is a recipient of a scholarship which will cover all of his tuition and fees at University of Illinois.

He has left an outstanding record of scholastic achievement at the Bremen high school. Bob ranks in the upper 10% of his class and has spent his time working the toughest Bremen has in math and science.

No doubt, he will play plenty of baseball at the Illinois university. He was exceptionally good on given evenings with a southpaw hook-shot in the basketball competition, but still would appear to be more consistent in the horsehide sport.

He has demonstrated far more poise in baseball than in basketball and can hit the long ball—the popular kind for a modern ball player.

Rodger is a young man who should mature some more. He has the height, standing at 6'3" and will probably add some more weight to his large frame. Thus he can be expected to develop in college, obviously not reaching his peak as a school boy athlete.

The Frankfort Legion team was nudged out of its first place tie with bitter rival Matteson by a 6-3 score. A week ago the Frankfort team had socked the Matteson entry with a resounding 18-3 lacing.

Gerry Piepenbrink has been a sparkling youngster with the Frankfort kitenball club. He is currently hitting at a spectacular .571 pace, far away and ahead of any teammate. In addition he has hit three home runs.

Joe Kruzich and Ron Schaper are both hitting well over the .300 mark with .320 and .333 marks respectively.

The loss to Matteson was the third of the season for Frankfort.

A segment of the Pan Am games will be run off at one of the SW Suburban high schools.

The Pan Am wrestling event will be held at Reavis high school in Oak Lawn. Reavis is reputed to have some of the finest wrestling equipment of any high school in the country.

No column next week—yours truly will be on vacation. But watch out—for the week following. What are the Little Leagues?

Orland Babe Ruth Entry Beats Mokena 3 to 0 in Playoff of Tie

The Orland Park Babe Ruth entry defeated Mokena on the strong pitching of a fellow named Zinn, 3-0. This was a play-off of a 6-6 tie on the 16th of last month.

Zinn struck out 13 of the Mokena batters in fashioning his first shutout. He gave up just two hits.

However, Ron Yunker of Mokena pitched a fine game with 12 ko's and just 4 hits, but Zinn was sharper and tougher when he had to be.

Orland scored two runs in the second. Nickel opened the second with a single and went to third on Bates' single to center. Bates then stole 2nd.

Nickel scored when McGraw was thrown out at first, Bates taking third.

Then Bates tallied as Knapp was thrown out.

Bates continued as the rogue as far as Mokena was concerned, as he cracked a double in the fifth and then Knapp rapped him home with a solid single to left.

This win gave the Orland Babe Ruth team a first place spot for the first half of the season.

Sportsmen at New Lenox Post Beach Rules

The New Lenox Sportsmen's club which has a recreation area in the strip mine territory near Wilmington has enacted some hard and fast rules relative to use of the beach.

Parents of youngsters are reminded that it is up to them to watch their own children as the lifeguard is not there to act as a baby sitter.

The lifeguard is the boss when it comes to use of the water, and he is the only one permitted to use a boat in the swimming area.

Food and bottles are banned on the beach; so is horseplay; so is swimming beyond the roped off area; so are flotation devices, such as air mattresses, inner tubes, etc.

When the diving raft is installed and the beach fully opened up, a club spokesman said, another lifeguard will be needed. As of the moment the club is asking donations from members for a fund to hire additional lifeguard protection.

Mrs. Mary Razabedowski of Flossmoor was welcomed as a new member. She is a sister of Mrs. Maconda Sankus, president.

Post Commander, Clarence Zugmocher, thanked the members of the Auxiliary for the gift of $500 which they gave to the Post to help pay the bond and bedness on the building. He also asked the ladies to serve dinner for them Sept. 13. Named to a committee to meet with Mrs. Stanek to plan the dinner were, Mrs. Mildred McMillan, Mrs. Helen Murphy and Mrs. Ruth Doctor.

The Mokena 4H group, the Mud Turtles, thanked the Auxiliary for the flag given them.

Mrs. Murphy, hospital chair man, has arranged a party to be held at the Kankakee hospital July 9. Entertainment will be furnished by the pupils of Mrs. Mildred Minuth's School of Dance; Pat Murphy and Beth Doctor will play accordion selections. They will serve refreshments to the patients.

The regular card party of the Auxiliary will be held Saturday evening, July 11 starting at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Elsie Genens, assisted by Mrs. Evon Stephens and Mrs. Murphy will be in charge. This activity will be held this week and next, five days each week starting at 9 a.m. It has been reported that the Cub Scouts attending are very well behaved which is much appreciated.

Miss Sandra Swinford presented her piano students in a recital in her home, Carpenter st., Tuesday afternoon June 23. They were Margie Olson, Cindy Robinson, Ann Owens, Sandy Sherwood, Marilyn Bormet and Ruth Ann Munch. Following the program refreshments were served to the students and their mothers.

Mrs. Jessie Koeller, who has been staying in her home on Cross st., for several weeks, left by motor last Thursday for Louisville, Ky., to spend some time with her daughter, Almira, and husband W. P. Schindler and family.

26 Get First Aid Certificates From Mokena CD

Twenty six citizens of Mokena have passed their first aid examinations held under the auspices of the Civil Defense organization and have received their certificates.

He was given public thanks for his work by Anthony A. Dina, CD director, who also presented the certificates to members of the class. The certificates were furnished by the Illinois Civil Defense.

Co. Treasurer Extends Hours To Collect Taxes

(CNS) County Treasurer Francis S. Lorenz is making it a little easier for you to pay your taxes.

Until Sept. 2, the cashier cages in his County Building office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. Weekdays and 8:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturdays. Formerly, the office was closed to the public at 3:30 p.m. weekdays.

"Now it will be possible for taxpayers to stop in after work instead of trying to make it on their lunch hour," Lorenz said.

Some 600,000 real estate bills in Chicago and 400,000 personal property bills in Cook county were mailed before the July 1 deadline, Lorenz said. First installment on the real estate tax and all of the personal property tax payment are due August 1.

In Chicago, the tax payment is sent to the county treasurer. In the suburbs, payment may be made to the township collector.

Promise Worth Imhoff Tanks In 3 Months

(CNS) Completion is expected in 90 days on the temporary sewage treatment system for Worth.

A $170,080 contract for the project was awarded last week by the Metropolitan Sanitary District to Brighton Building and Maintenance company, low bidder.

"We'll have the job done in 90 days and we'll work around the clock if necessary," said Burton Scheidt, chief engineer of the sanitary district.

The project calls for installation of two concrete Imhoff tanks along the Calumet-Sag channel—one at Ridgeland, the other at Oketo.

They're designed to handle needs of the village. It's been hoped completion will be in time to coincide with the finish of work on Worth's $1,350,000 local sewer installation program.

The district earlier considered using the oxidation pond method to handle sewage in Worth. But the village's population is booming too fast for that, said Norval Anderson, sanitary district engineer in charge of treatment plant design.

The Imhoff tanks will be

To date the Cancer Crusade in Will county has reached a total of $18,045.66 which is $54.51 short of the $19,102.20 goal fixed by those in charge.

In Mokena this year letters were sent out to some 600 persons by John R. Scarth, an executive of the Mokena Wall Paper Co. and former mayor. So far $92.50 has been mailed in response to these letters but those in charge hope it will be larger.

The total set for the state is $1,650,000 and to date $1,565,466 has been collected.

The cancer drive will not close until next month, so there is time for those who have not subscribed to do so, it was pointed out.

Developers at New Lenox Ask Plat Approval

The New Lenox village board is asked to approve a plat for Warren Meadows, a subdivision west and south of the present corporate limits. The plat presented by Floyd Cooper treats of the first unit in the proposed development and is comprised of 162 lots.

It is reported to have been approved by the Will county zoning authorities and FHA. Approval by the village is asked because the tract lies within a one and a half mile radius of New Lenox.

At one time the developers sought to have the entire tract, which would be approximately 700 lots, annexed to New Lenox. Such a move would create many problems for the village and the board wanted time to study it.

In the meantime the subdividers decided to bypass the village and went to the county for approval of its plat.

The unit up for approval lies south of the Michigan Central tracks and west of Ogden av. The developers will install water and sewer mains and under the county code will have to build paved streets.

Sidewalks, Curbs A Necessity

Communities in the area who have not yet adopted subdivision ordinances would do well to follow the example of Orland Park and Tinley Park and insist on sidewalks, curbs and gutters in addition to sewer, water, black-topped streets and other improvements.

Some places are inclined to forgo walks, curbs and gutters, and to allow subdividers to get away with cheaper streets. This is a mistake. Once a subdivision is opened without proper provision for sidewalks and curbs and gutters the chances are excellent that such improvements will never be built.

Not building curbs, gutters and sidewalks saves the developer considerable money. He could, and does, of course, pass such costs along to the home purchaser. Sometimes, however, he has the price loaded as far as he thinks he can go and to tack on an additional charge would cost him a sale.

If successful in getting these items waived he then confides to the prospective purchaser that he has been fighting hard to save him money. The purchaser wants country living, doesn't he? Well, he's getting it. His lawn now meets flush with the street or ends in a shallow ditch that he can plant to grass. Thus his place, and all the others along the block, will have a spacious look. Sidewalks, curbs? Those items are for the city!

The purchaser agrees until he discovers that after heavy rains water rushes from the street onto his lawn and that if he wants to visit a neighbor two doors down the street and not wade thru mud he'd better drive. The driveway may be a bit washed out too but that just means a bump and another load of stone. Not having sidewalks is also hazardous for children.

That is when the purchaser begins to haunt village board meetings in the hope of getting something done to divert the water elsewhere.

In Mokena for example some of the streets have been built up in the center until they are one or two feet above the sidewalks. There are no curbs to serve as a barrier and surface water pours over the walks so at times they resemble canals with the street a towpath.

Village officials will find they can save themselves considerable time and conversation by adopting a good subdivision ordinance and sticking to it.

WANT ADS GET RESULTS

On Second Thot

By GLENN LOGAN

The postmaster general's office frequently releases information of more or less general public interest to the newspapers and other media of communication.

The subject matter may range from hiring extra mail carriers, new stamps, sale of parcel post packages that cannot be delivered, oddities from the dead letter office, and/or regulations.

There are so many regulations covering conduct of the postoffice business, and the men and women who are employed in it, that there is no end to the stuff.

This column does not recommend postal regulations for light, vacation-time reading but here and there one becomes enriched with a nugget of wisdom.

One of these, which deals with lotteries, we pass along with the hope that it will reduce the number of bitter inquiries voiced by readers who are quite indignant because no space is given their pet raffles.

The writer has been in the business of gathering and dispensing news for quite a number of years and would take this occasion to remark that the lottery situation appears unchanged.

There being more people it necessarily means there are more lotteries, plus the bingo games.

And it should be added at this juncture that they were illegal, are illegal and quite likely to remain illegal for years to come. Postal regulations ban stories and ads dealing with lotteries.

"The advertised plan should be considered in its entirety, and if it contains the necessary elements to constitute a lottery (viz. prize, consideration and chance) the same is in violation of postal laws," is the way the regulations put it.

This consideration business has angles of its own. Say a merchant seeks to give business a shot in the arm by bringing more people into his store. He figures he can do it thru a giveaway of merchandise or cash.

If the only requirement for participation is to register at the store, or call at a store or a department of such store to determine if his name has been drawn, or to watch an appliance in action or to take a ride in an automobile after first signing his name, then the postoffice isn't interested. But if some chances are to be had just for signing one's name while other chances are given with purchases, the element of consideration has come into the picture thru the giving of chances with purchases, and the whole thing is out as far as postal authorities are concerned.

"Such schemes," the regulations say, "are lotteries as long as some pay, even the others play free."

Newspapers that run news and ads for lotteries can be banned from the mails and their mailing permits forfeited. Individual postmasters, however, are not entitled to blow the whistle on "doubtful mailings" without specific instructions from higher authority but they are supposed to report such things promptly to the general counsel of the department.

For these reasons newspapers that follow ethical practices do not care to become involved in publishing questionable matter. For that reason they have found that the best answer to requests to advertise raffles and the like — for pay or free — is a simple but positive NO.

Saying NO saves time in conversation and correspondence and probably attorney fees.

It doesn't make any difference whether money realized is to be used to aid the handicapped, provide a church with a new roof, instruments or uniforms for a school band or line the pockets of the promoters, a lottery is a lottery as far as Uncle Sam is concerned.

And that, friends, is the way the ball is bouncing today.

DENTAL HEALTH

THE DENTAL PULP

When that toothache flares up in the middle of the night, it signifies that the decay has reached the "nerve" or heart of the tooth, properly known as the pulp.

The pulp is a specialized tissue containing not only nerves, but arteries and veins. It has several functions, but the most important is to form dentin, the body proper of the tooth.

Not only does the pulp produce the original dentin of the teeth, but it continues to lay down secondary dentin when the teeth become worn down through use in later years.

The health of the pulp is maintained by keeping decay away. At one time it was believed that once the pulp was infected, it was necessary to extract the tooth. Now it is known that the tooth sometimes can be saved, particularly single rooted teeth in the front of the mouth.

Treatment consists in removing the infected portion and sterilizing the tooth. The root canal is then filled with a non irritating material.

When the pulp has been partially removed, the tooth often has been called a "dead" tooth. But this term is not correct.

When the tooth pulp is no longer able to create new dentin, the tooth continues to receive nourishment for this purpose by way of the cementum, which is the bony layer covering the roots. Many such "dead" teeth remain serviceable for years.

Occasionally, a devitalized tooth becomes discolored. When this becomes unsightly, dentists use a bleaching process. In those cases where a

LOW COST GAS AIR- CONDITIONING IS AVAILABLE NOW!

More people than ever are cooling with gas. More and more home-owners are installing this wonderful summer comfort and finding it easy on the budget.

And there are good reasons. You see, air-conditioning with gas is available in several ways. For instance, you can have a combination central gas heating and gas cooling unit for perfect winter warmth and cool summer comfort with a single central unit. You can have an "add-on" summer gas air-conditioning unit in connection with your present heating system.

Whichever method you choose, gas service assures you healthful, filtered, properly humidified air throughout your home at the warmth or "coolth" you select, summer and winter. This is not single-room air-conditioning with separate expensive motorized compressor units which are also costly to operate. With gas, all you do is set a single simple thermostat. It is quiet and draftless. And, of course, walls, draperies and furniture stay clean much longer.

The comfort of air-conditioning is not new. Many homes and public buildings now have it. But air-conditioning operated by gas brings you the outstanding economy of gas for all household conveniences—the same as for cooking, water heating, clothes drying. As always, gas does it better for less.

And gas air-conditioning is ready now—for your home or business. If you live in the area served by our Company, all you have to do is call one of our offices or use the convenient coupon below. An experienced air-conditioning engineer will suggest the type of installation best suited for your needs. He will give you cost estimates, of course, without any obligation.

Business and Finance

By MAURICE P. ANGLAND

For the fifth consecutive year, Fortune Magazine has published a list of the "top 500" firms on the basis of dollar volume of sales, in its July issue. The 1959 study has broken the firms down as to their industry percentage and the top ten firms of the 500 as to return on invested capital, profit per sales dollar, assets per employee, profit per sales dollar of invested capital, etc. Space would not permit of analysis of these figures in all groupings. We can only cover a few of these.

As would be expected, the return on invested capital for firms listed, showed a noticeable drop in 1958 as against 1957. The average of all firms listed in the "top 500" was a return of 11.6 per cent on invested capital in 1957 as against 9.1 per cent in 1958. The two exceptions to the decline in 1958 were tobacco and food and beverage groups.

The tobacco group showed a return of 11.7 percent on invested capital in 1957 and 14.0 per cent in 1958. Food and beverage grouping showed 10.1 percent in 1958 as against 9.8 percent in 1957. It will be noted that the change in food and beverage percentage is slight.

Of the 500, the ten firms with the highest percentage return on invested capital, were, American Home Products, 33.5 per cent; Smith Kline & French, 33.1 percent; Gillette, 32.4; Revlon, 29.3; Avon Products, 28.9; Chemstrand, 28.4; Champion Spark Plugs, 26.6; Botany Mills, 24.6; Brunswick Balke, 24.1; and Pepsi Cola, 23.6 percent.

The profit return on sales is another important test in evaluation as to investment desirability. Of course, comparisons should be made as to the average for the industrial grouping and individual firms within that group. Again in this group, tobacco and food and beverage were the only groups showing an increase in 1958 over 1957. Tobacco increased from 7.7 per cent. in 1957 to 8.8 per cent in 1958. Food and beverage again showed only slight increase, 3.5 per cent in 1957 and 3.6 per cent in 1958. Tobacco stocks and food and beverage issues have long been favorite investment media for investors who desire a steady investment position with a maximum resistance on the down side when business generally has declined. Some institutional investors, notably the mutual funds, have a policy against investment in tobacco issues. Reasons for this policy have varied, but usually are influenced by public relations issues rather than pure mathematical consideration.

The ten firms with the highest percentage of profit on sales volume in 1958, are, Amerada Petroleum, 21.9 per cent; Ideal Cement, 18.9; DuPont, 18.7; Smith Kline & French, 16.8; Schering Drug, 16.5; Standard Oil of Calif., 16.5; Champion Spark Plug, 16.5; Parke Davis, 16.3; Lone Star Cement, 16.1; and Ingersoll Rand, 15.5 percent.

This study also lists firms with the highest investment per dollar of sales. Within an industry, this test is often made to learn which firms have excess plant capacity or the lowest rate of "plant use." Those with the highest investment per sales dollar usually have smallest investor attraction. The study lists the following as the ten highest in so far as investment per dollar of sales is concerned. They are, Hygrade Foods, $15.17; Pacific Vegetable Oil, $12.91; Morrell Packing, $10.77; Rath Packing, $10.52; Cudahy Packing, $10.10; Hormel Packing, $9.85; McDonnell Aircraft, $9.78; Armour, $8.87; Boeing, $8.49; and Temco Aircraft, $8.37. The average of the 500 as to investment per dollar of sales, is $2.50. Of course, close analysis can only be made by comparison of individual firms with their own industry group.

They were guests in the home of Mrs. Swanson's sister and family in Old Tappan, N. J. where Mrs. Grimm was matron of honor at her cousin's wedding. The Grimm family visited friends in Ohio and in Detroit, Mich enroute home. Mrs. Swanson spent her entire vacation with her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Aspel and children attended the wedding anniversary celebration of Mrs. Aspel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Smith, at Wyanet Sunday, June 21.

Mr. and Mrs. James Elvig were dinner guests in the Henry Rodgers home last Sunday.

Mr. Elvig and John Hollister attended a camp committee meeting at the Rosemoor church, Chicago, last Monday evening.

Mrs. Roger Myers, who is on vacation from her duties with the United Air Lines, accompanied by Mrs. Frank Kolar, Mrs. Walter Konow and Mr. and Mrs. George Mathers, visited in the home of Mrs.

Emil Keintz in Chicago last Monday.

Edna Mae Burcham underwent bone surgery at Silver Creek hospital on Thursday morning. She expects to return home this week.

Wayne Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Parker, Creme rd., has been named a "State Farmer" at a recent convention of Future Farmers in Springfield. The award is based on scholarship, leadership and supervised farming activities. This is the first Lockport high school student to have received the honor. He ranked among the highest applicants of the 22 schools in this section.

Mrs. Dorothy Miller, a former Homer resident, has opened a beauty shop at State and Seventh st., Lockport.

The diocese of Homer church met at the parsonage Tuesday evening of last week. The trustees met at Bob Burch's Tuesday night.

The Couples club will meet in the Ted Grimm home Friday, July 10 at 8 p.m. On July 12 they will sponsor an ice cream social beginning at 3:00 p.m. at the church park, to which the public is invited.

About 25 people, including members, guests and children, enjoyed the picnic dinner of the King's Daughters Thursday at the Homer church park.

Following dinner, the adults held a short business meeting in the church parlors. Devotionals were led by Mrs. Elvig, and an amusing game was conducted by Mrs. John White. During the business meeting the circle voted a small donation to the Hannah Harwood building fund and also voted a pledge to the church budget.

Marion Cavanagh, 17, of Worth, was taken to Silver

Cross hospital following an auto collision on Smith rd. in Homer twp. Friday night. Five other persons were hurt in the accident, but not so seriously. Miss Cavanagh suffered a fractured pelvis, but is reported recovering satisfactorily.

The Homer Little League players chose two teams to play at the Marley picnic on Saturday.

They are an enthusiastic bunch; on June 2 the Tigers won over the Athletics, who have been the champions hitherto; Friday, July 3, the Tigers beat the Cardinals. Until July 4, they have done all their playing at the Reed school grounds on 143rd street.

Sixty-five descendants of the late Robert White Sr. of Homer twp. gathered for a reunion at Dellwood Park June 28. The oldest person attending was Charles White of Homer, and Jannette Ohla, great granddaughter of Charles, was the youngest.

Joliet Milk Supply Rates High in State

The milk supply of the Joliet area, which is under the supervision of the Will county health department, is one of the best in the State of Illinois said Dr. Felix A. Tornabene, director of the Will County Health Department.

This is based on a report just received from the Illinois department of public health. This survey was conducted by the state of Illinois milk survey officer and indicated the highest compliance rating ever achieved by the Joliet milk supply.

"We are especially proud of the record achieved by the local pasteurization plants. These plants will have difficulty improving on their rating of 99%," said Dr. Tornabene. "This report also indicated that our dairy farmers have made tremendous progress in that they supply us with milk of the best quality."

Dr. Tornabene wished to commend all connected with the local dairy industry, since this rating was made possible only by their untiring efforts, cooperation and interest, he pointed out.

California, Lockport, completed the six week ammunition storage course June 26 at the ordnance school, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md.

Lane entered the Army last January and completed basic training at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

He is a graduate of Lockport high school.

Clinton 50, Clinton and Newton appear to be the stiffest strawed oat varieties recommended at present by University of Illinois agronomists. They mature at about the same time as Clinton. Minhafer and Clinton 60 have better rust resistance than other varieties now being recommended.

Texas Eastern Measurement Department men keep a sharp-eyed watch on the natural gas we pipe—constantly testing to keep quality high and quantities accurate.

This is no small job. In a year we move more than 600 billion cubic feet of gas. All of it has to pass a series of quality control analyses before it goes into the lines of our customers—distributors in Eastern Seaboard, Appalachian and Midwestern states.

Quality of the gas—how clean and efficiently it burns—is determined by the correct balance of fourteen chemical compounds normally found in it—and by the absence of one that is highly undesirable: hydrogen sulfide. Other tests measure the moisture content of the gas and its specific gravity.

A close watch, too, is kept on the all-important heating quality of the gas. Much higher than manufactured gas, Texas Eastern's natural gas has a heat content of about 1040 BTU per cubic foot.

And—as if the quality control job weren't enough—Measurement Men account for every cubic foot of gas that goes through the system...all 6100 miles of it, stretching from the Mexican border to the Northeast Coast. Gas is taken into the system at over 400 purchasing points located in the gas producing areas and checked out at more than 100 sales stations, located largely in Midwestern, Appalachian and Eastern Seaboard states.

A cubic foot of natural gas that whooshes out of a wellhead in Texas on a 90-degree day is a lot different in content from a cubic foot that moves through a metering point in New Jersey on a freezing day.

So, to equate the gas handled under varying temperatures and pressures, the Measurement Men use a mathematical formula that corrects for the temperature and pressure and lets us know exactly how much gas—measured in volume—we have taken into the system and how much we have sold.

All in all, Texas Eastern's Measurement Men do a king-size job of assuring the customers of a continuing supply of clean natural gas that will keep them happily cooking with gas for a long time to come.
